TRANSFORMING LIVES

Welcome to GoodLife!

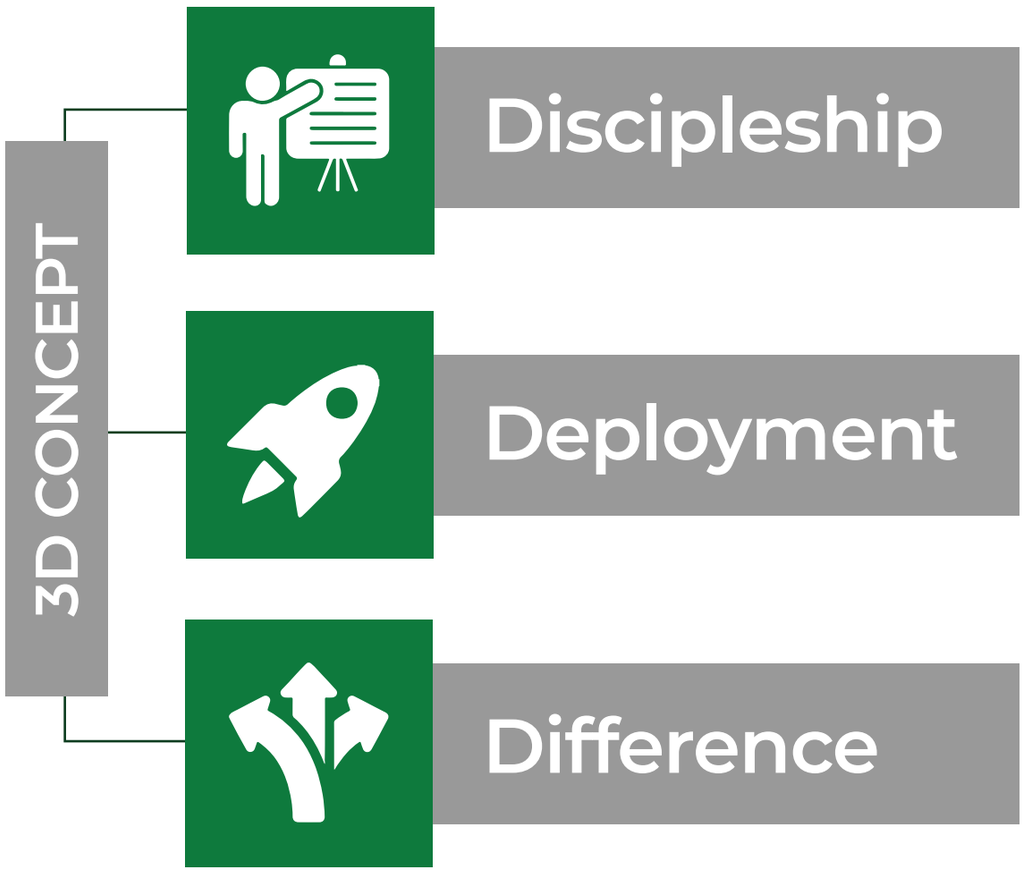

Our church is about transforming lives, and this is why we exist. Over the years, GoodLife Church has been giving hope and supporting dreams, while we inspire people to be the very best version of themselves and be all that God has created them to be.

Our mission is transformative and people centric. We are confident that God is working with us through some of the finest people from communities around to come together and build a church of love and service.

Transforming Lives

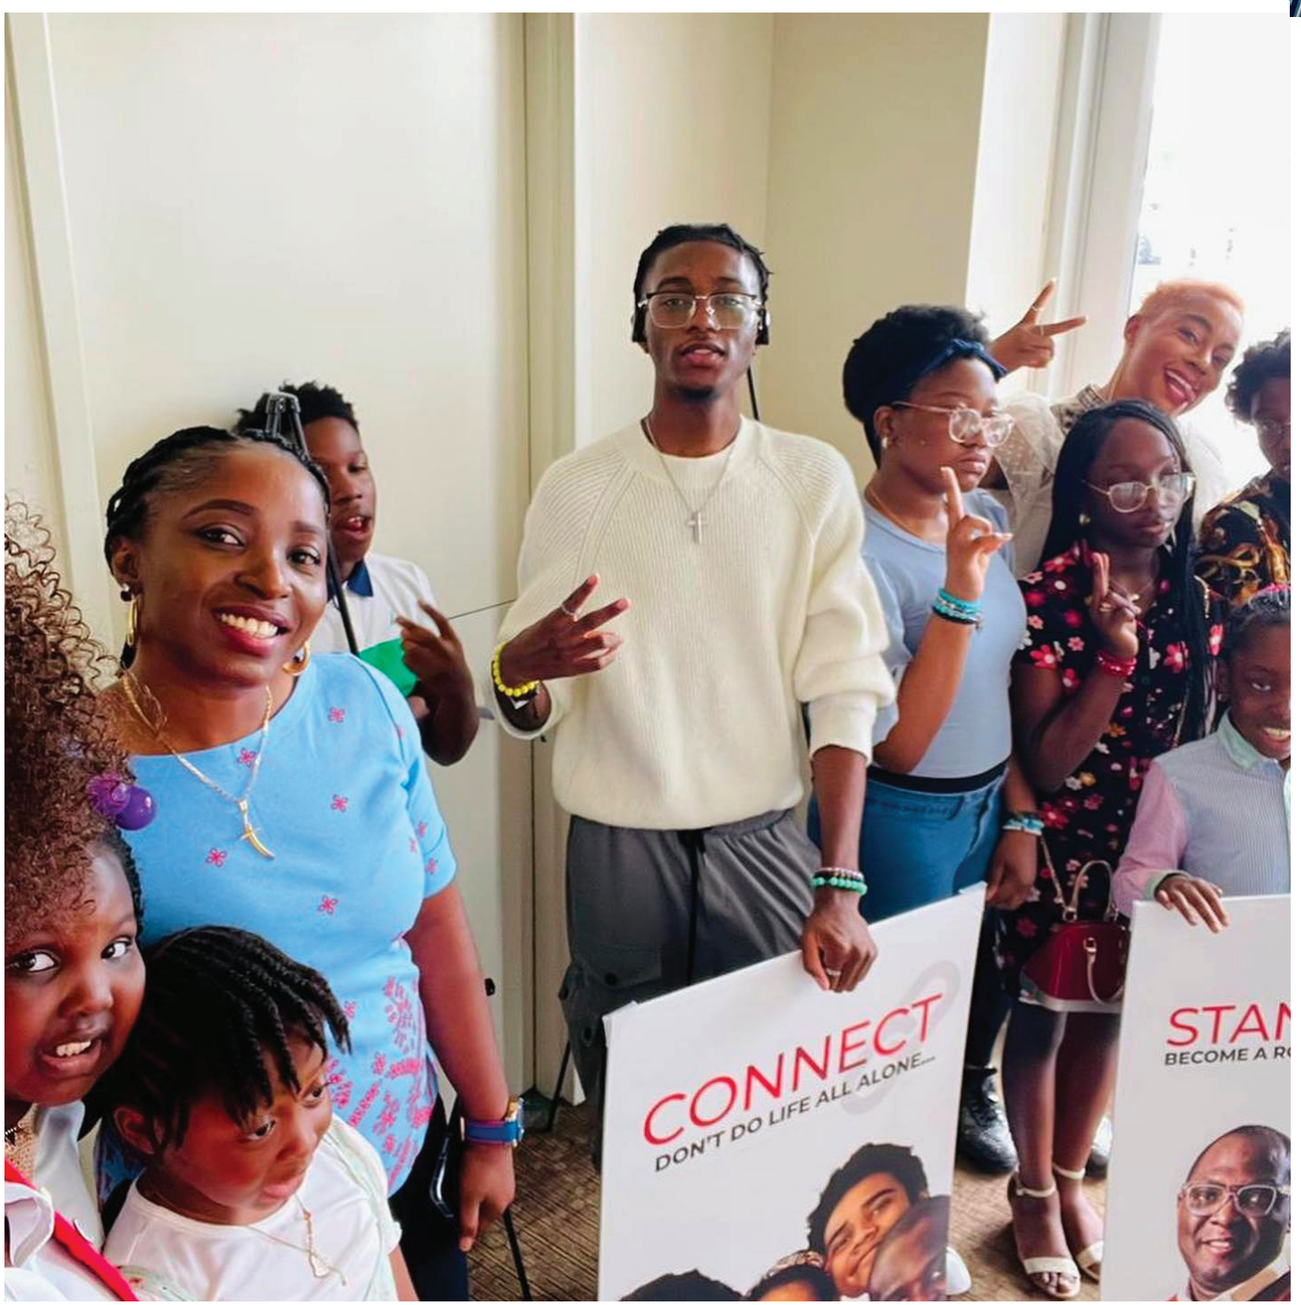

How do we transform lives? We have established a 3D Concept that we believe will help our members become connected and established through carefully curated life-altering teachings and modeling: Discipleship, Deployment & Difference.

Church With A Difference

We dream of a church that is different from the pack. We try to challenge traditions and do things differently. Being guided by this philosophy, we carefully create social, communal, and spiritual activities that amplify our calling as a church, and not because others are doing so.

Hence, when you attend any of our services or events, we hope to see these points of difference in all we say and do. Our messages are simple, and we try to cut out as much ambiguity as possible. We are confident that if you apply our easy-to-understand principles that we teach, your life will begin to have quality experiences with expected positive outcomes.

Serving Our Communities

As a church desiring to reach its immediate communities through creative initiatives, we have dedicated an entire month to serving communities around us. Our ‘Be The Church’ initiative seeks to bring families closer in communities and influence each other for the greater good, through acts of goodwill and enduring friendships.

Celebrating Our Inclusiveness

We are a church with diverse roots from different parts of the world. As much as we can, we celebrate our diverse unique heritages and identities, opening doors to diverse tribal and cultural infusions even as we make definite efforts to celebrate these differences. Our hope is that GoodLife Church will serve as a melting pot for new and emerging ideas that everyone will love to identify with, celebrate and perpetuate.

Culture plays a pivot role in the reach of the gospel, and we recognize that our unique heritages are a blessing, and we seek to harness such blessings and uniquely position such for positive influences as well as for social and economic advantages wherever desired.

The Family Church

Growing vibrant and excellent families is at the heart of our mission. Excellent families function based on deliberate design and not just by default. To this end, we are passionate about supporting different aspects of the family through provision of quality learning, programs and activities that will help transform family experiences.

Love. Belong. Serve

Do you have a talent or gift that may be relevant to what we do as a church? Then get ready to serve. Serving others is one of the highest forms of happiness and we look forward to making the transition to service very seamless for you.
